

AmplifyME, founded in 2009, are the leading provider of finance simulation-based training for leading institutions world-wide.

Their practical, programmes demystify finance through role-specific, hands-on experiences, giving students a practical advantage in a competitive industry.

AmplifyME technology, in-depth performance analysis and partnerships with leading banks, get students hired based on ability, not background.

Morgan Stanley

Secure your place and join the movement

AmplifyME, founded in 2009, are the leading provider of finance simulation-based training for leading institutions world-wide.

Their practical, programmes demystify finance through role-specific, hands-on experiences, giving students a practical advantage in a competitive industry.

By completing the Discover Finance: Working in Asset Management course on Wednesday 10th May, you gain:

- Accredited experience in Sales and Trading and Asset Management – this will help you stand out to future employers
- A certificate of completion you can share straight away via LinkedIn
- Access to the AmplifyME community where you'll benefit from job opportunity referrals to their partners such as Morgan Stanley and Citadel

Sign up here to secure your place: <https://bit.ly/AUEBam>

