3. SYLLABUS

The course aims to lead students to recognize the close relationship between advertising strategy and marketing strategy and to understand the mechanisms that determine the effectiveness of an advertising campaign and an integrated marketing communication program. The course presents the range of marketing communication tools and their combined, more effective use. In addition, the steps and the process of developing an integrated marketing communication plan and the methods for evaluating its effectiveness are analyzed. The course focuses on classic and contemporary theoretical and empirical approaches to the study of advertising (e.g., hierarchical models of advertising effects, high- and low-involvement advertising, setting of advertising objectives and advertising planning grids) and examines in depth both strategy (e.g. integrated marketing communication strategy, objectives, development of the creative brief, budget, media planning and effectiveness assessment) as well as the creative side of advertising (creative process, message development, creative techniques, advertising appeals). Other marketing communication tools such as sales promotion, personal selling, public relations, digital communication etc. and their combined use are also discussed.

- Principles of Integrated Marketing Communication (IMC)
- Marcom Tools: Overview
- Advertising
 - Introduction
 - The role of advertising in IMC
 - The evolution of advertising
 - Ethical, regulatory and legal issues in advertising
 - Hierarchical models of advertising effects
 - Advertising under high and low mixing conditions
 - Advertising planning models: Determining advertising objectives
 - Creative strategy
 - Message strategy and advertising appeals
 - Advertising media and media planning
- Other marketing communication tools
 - Sales promotion
 - Personal selling
 - Direct marketing
 - Public relations, publicity
 - Interactive communication
 - Alternative tools
- Evaluation of Integrated Marketing Communication programs

3. SYLLABUS

The course is designed to develop students' competencies in developing and implementing effective business strategies in a dynamic and highly competitive environment. The course does not focus on only one business function (e.g., accounting, operations, finance, e.tc). Rather it examines a company as a system. In that context, students need to integrate prior knowledge and competencies, in order to solve complex strategic issues. The course covers topics, such as: competitive environment, different levels of strategy, financial aspects of a chosen strategy, marketing strategies and associated marketing tactics.

3. SYLLABUS

The aim of the course is data analysis and the development of descriptive and predictive quantitative and optimization models in the wider field of marketing and digital social networks. Initially, emphasis is placed on the use of tools that allow the detection, access, management, and export of data from the internet (web scraping). Using this data, students will be exposed to the use of text mining methods on texts (e.g. Facebook tweets, blogs, user comments and ratings for restaurants and newspaper articles) and to the application of various machine learning methods to analyze customer behavior, perform sentiment analysis and create recommendation systems. At the methodological level, students will acquire knowledge and skills in various methods for describing customer data sets (descriptive analytics), develop models that predict future trends and behaviors (predictive analytics) and develop optimization models (prescriptive analytics). At the level of business problems and practical application, students will be exposed to various topics such as market basket analysis, consumer behavior models, and segmentation models.

3. SYLLABUS

Introduction. Includes a summary of the issue/problem and a detailed presentation of how it was approached.

Literature review. Provide the information needed regarding the existing knowledge and theory on the subject. Allow the student to (a) identify the gap in the existing knowledge, (b) develop and support the research questions or research hypotheses, and (c) convince the reader for the contribution of the paper both theoretically and practically.

Methodology. Presentation in a clear and comprehensive way the research methods, the data collection tool, the sampling methodology, the sample size and the way of measuring both dependent and independent variables.

Analysis. Includes the data analysis, in a thorough and scientifically documented way, based on the use and description of the appropriate data analysis tools depending on the kind of primary data (qualitative or quantitative).

Conclusions. Presentation of (a) the findings of their research and compare them with current theory and previous studies, (b) the practical importance of the findings for the selected industry or business, (c) the summary of the research limitations and (d) suggestions for further research.

At the end of the course:

1). Students should have developed a complete appreciation of the significance of understanding consumer behavior for optimal marketing decisions.

2). They should have developed a comprehensive understanding of the content and the methods of the science of consumer behavior.

3). They should be able to discern the processes that guide consumer decision making.

4). They should have developed the ability to identify and assess the various psychological, cultural, societal, and group influences on consumer behavior at different stages of the consumption process.

5). They should have developed an appreciation of the central role of persuasion for marketing and the importance of behavioral economics and the nudge theory in our efforts to understand consumption choices.

6). They should be able to evaluate the importance of the optimal usage of consumer research for a solid understanding of consumer behavior for business success, compare the relative usefulness of each method, and appraise the possible synergies between the different methods.

7). They should be able to analyze and map the customer experience and have the tools for its optimal management.

8). Via the field group project, students should be able to apply the acquired knowledge and tools to a real company problem.

(3) SYLLABUS

As the complexity of the problems facing managers has increased in recent years, so has the need for information – about the business environment, the competition, and more importantly, the customer. As a marketing or general manager, you will frequently come in close contact with market research throughout your career.

This course is designed to equip you with the appropriate skills, so as to become an intelligent user of international marketing research. The goal is to provide you with a good understanding of the rational of marketing research, by covering the various types of research designs and stages of the marketing research process. Particular emphasis will be placed on the role of marketing research in facilitating decision making, through the use of applied case studies in real business settings. The ultimate purpose of this module is to give students the opportunity to develop their skills in the use of various IT related software packages (e.g., SPSS) for the analysis of consumer and market research data.

Learning outcomes

The course learning outcomes, specific knowledge, skills and competences of an appropriate level, which the students will acquire with the successful completion of the course are described.

Consult Appendix A

- Description of the level of learning outcomes for each qualifications cycle, according to the Qualifications Framework of the European Higher Education Area
- Descriptors for Levels 6, 7 & 8 of the European Qualifications Framework for Lifelong Learning and Appendix B
- Guidelines for writing Learning Outcomes

The main objective of this module is to familiarize students with the mechanisms that determine the effectiveness of advertising and integrated marketing communications (IMC). A balanced approach is adopted with a focus on both the theoretical and managerial aspects of advertising and IMC. The module emphasizes the close relationship between marketing strategy and communication strategy. In addition to advertising, a range of other MARCOM tools (e.g. sales promotion, personal selling, public relations, internet and social media advertising) are presented and their synergistic use is discussed. The process and issues surrounding the development of an IMC plan as well as the methods for assessing its effectiveness are analyzed. The challenges of advertising and IMC at an international level provide a central focus throughout the module.

Upon completion of the module, students should be able to:

- Understand the relation between marketing goals and communication goals.
- Understand the function of advertising and its relationship with other MARCOM tools.
- Understand the role of each MARCOM tool as a component of an integrated strategy.
- Understand and handle the challenges of international communications.
- Develop their own IMC plans and evaluate their effectiveness.
- Plan, execute and evaluate local and international IMC campaigns.

(3) SYLLABUS

Innovation is the most important guarantor of sustainable competitive advantage for firms around the world. Entrepreneurship is the principal source of jobs and wealth in the economy. However, shaping an organization so that it successfully and repeatedly brings innovations to market is a daunting managerial challenge. This course examines the basics managers need to organize and commercialize valuable innovation in both entrepreneurial and established firms. Major topics include designing appropriate innovation processes; identifying, building and commercializing innovations; taking advantage of internal and external sources of innovation; and structuring entrepreneurial organizations. The course includes lectures, case analyses, visiting experts, practical exercises and student presentations.

Introduction. Includes a summary of the issue/problem and a detailed presentation of how it was approached.

Literature review. Provide the information needed regarding the existing knowledge and theory on the subject. Allow the student to (a) identify the gap in the existing knowledge, (b) develop and support the research questions or research hypotheses, and (c) convince the reader for the contribution of the paper both theoretically and practically.

Methodology. Presentation in a clear and comprehensive way the research methods, the data collection tool, the sampling methodology, the sample size and the way of measuring both dependent and independent variables.

Analysis. Includes the data analysis, in a thorough and scientifically documented way, based on the use and description of the appropriate data analysis tools depending on the kind of primary data (qualitative or quantitative).

Conclusions. Presentation of (a) the findings of their research and compare them with current theory and previous studies, (b) the practical importance of the findings for the selected industry or business, (c) the summary of the research limitations and (d) suggestions for further research.

PART III: STUDENT INFORMATION

GENERAL STUDENT INFORMATION

The Athens University of Economics and Business provides not only high-quality education but also high-quality student services. The adoption of the Presidential Decree 387/83 and Law 1404/83 defines the operation, organization, and administration of Student Clubs at Universities, which aim at improving the living conditions of the students and enhance their social and intellectual wellbeing through engagement and socialization initiatives.

To fulfill this objective the University ensures the required infrastructure for housing, meals, and sports activities through the operation of a student restaurant, reading rooms, library, organization of lectures, concerts, theatrical performances, and excursions in Greece and abroad. Further in this context, the University supports the development of international student relations, organizes foreign language classes, computer/software literacy classes, and courses in modern Greek as a foreign language for foreign students and expatriated Greek students.

Detailed information on meals, housing, fitness, foreign languages, cultural activities, scholarships, financial aid, is provided on the website of AUEB's Student Club at https://lesxi.aueb.gr/

Electronic Services

A significant number of procedures related to both attendance and student care are carried out electronically through applications of the University or the Ministry of Education and Religious Affairs. All applications are accessible with the same codes (username & password).

• E-mail account:

Detailed instructions for using the Webmail Service are provided at https://www.aueb.gr/el/content/webmail-manual

• Electronic Secretariat (Student Register)

The Electronic Secretariat application is the information system through which students can be served by the Department's Secretariat via the web.

• Wireless network

Using their personal codes, students have access to a wireless network in all areas of the Athens University of Economics and Business buildings/campus. WiFi instructions

Services/Facilities to Students with Special Needs

The Athens University of Economics and Business ensures the facilitation of students with special needs, through the design, implementation, and environmental adaptations, for access to the university building facilities. In the main building there are specially configured lifting machines, ramps, and elevators. There are also special regulations for conducting exams for students with special needs.

The Athens University of Economics and Business has established a Committee for Equal Access for people with disabilities and people with special educational needs. The Commission is an advisory body and submits recommendations to the competent bodies for the formulation and implementation of the policy of equal access for persons with disabilities and persons with special educational needs.

Through the Library services, students with physical disabilities are granted electronic access to the recommended Greek bibliography of the courses taught at the University. In this context, the Association of Greek Academic Libraries (SEAB) has developed a multimodal electronic library called AMELib.

Library and Study Rooms

The Library & Information Center of the University operates at the University's main building. The AUEB Library is a member of the Hellenic Academic Libraries Association (Heal-LINK), the European Documentation Centers Europe Direct and the Economic Libraries Cooperation Network (DIOBI). Three Documentation Centers operate within the library:

- The European Documentation Center
- The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) Documentation Center
- The Delegation Center of the World Tourism Organization (WHO)

The library contributes substantially both to meeting the needs for scientific information of the academic community and to supporting studying and research. The library provides access to:

- printed collection of books and scientific journals,
- course books used in modules,
- collection of electronic scientific journals& books
- postgraduate theses and doctoral theses that are produced in Athens University of Economics and Business and deposited in digital form at the PYXIDA institutional repository
- sectoral studies
- statistical series by national and international organizations
- audiovisual material
- information material (encyclopedias, dictionaries)
- databases on the topics used by the University
- printed collections of other academic libraries

The library lends all its printed collections, except for magazines and statistical series, in accordance with its internal rules of operation. The Library and Information Center offers reading rooms, computer workstations for visitors, photocopiers and printing machines, and interlibrary loan of books and journal articles from other academic libraries that are members of its network. Student Associations

Various student clubs and associations are active within the community of the Athens University of Economics and Business

(https://www.aueb.gr/el/content/student-associations).

Alumni Network

Adhering to a long tradition of educating future top executives in the economic, social, and political life of the country, AUEB is proud that thousands of its graduates hold leading positions in companies, organizations, research institutes and universities in Greece and abroad. Understanding the importance of developing and strengthening the bond with its graduates, AUEB created its Alumni network including a platform https://alumni.aueb.gr where all graduates of the University can register. The main objectives of the Network are the connection of the graduates with their colleagues and former fellow students, and diffusion of information about activities, services, and events in and around the University that concern them.

Additional information on Clubs and Alumni Associations is available on the website https://www.aueb.gr/el/content/organizations-and-associations-of-students-and-alumni.

Volunteer Program

Within the framework of its strategies, the "AUEB Volunteers" Volunteering Program was launched in September 2017. The aim of the Program is to highlight important social issues and the value of participation and practical contribution, but also to raise community awareness regarding the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals. Actions are developed around two pillars: (a) actions addressed to AUEB's Community, which have as their main objective the maintenance of the quality of the University's infrastructure based on their aesthetics and functionality, and (b) actions addressed to Greek society. (https://auebvolunteers.gr/).

Quality Assurance

The Athens University of Economics & Business implements a quality assurance policy to continuously improve the quality of its study programs, research activities and administrative services, and upgrade the academic and administrative processes and the University's operations. The Quality Assurance Unit (MODIP) operating at AUEB coordinates and supports evaluation processes. Particularly the quality assurance of the educational process is achieved using the module/teaching evaluation questionnaire completed by AUEB students. (https://aueb.gr/modip).

Training and Lifelong Learning Center

The Center for Training and Lifelong Learning (KEDIVIM) is an AUEB unit which ensures the coordination and interdisciplinary cooperation in the development of training programs, continuing education, training and in general lifelong learning, which complement, modernize and/or upgrade knowledge, competences, and skills, acquired from formal education, vocational education and initial vocational training systems or from work experience, facilitating integration or reintegration in the labor market, job security and professional and personal development.
